How we collected feedback:

We sent a survey asking questions about our website; what people liked and disliked and how we could make it better. We then collected peoples ages and what they rated our site overall. We sent these through text, email, and in person.

What we will change:

Other data we collected showed people believed we should add color and photos to keep the viewer engaged. Then break up the text on the innovator page with people feeling overwhelmed. And also, to make sure every page and photo is working correctly.
